CHAPTER 230

MALTA SUMMER TIME ACT

To provide for the advance of time in Malta during certain periods of the year.

(7th June, 1972)*

Enacted by ACT XX of 1972.

1. This Act may be cited as the Malta Summer Time Act. Short title.

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires - Interpretation.

"Malta" has the same meaning as is assigned to it by section 124 of the Constitution of Malta;

"order under this Act" means an order made by the Prime Minister for any of the purposes of this Act and published in the Government Gazette;

"the period of summer time" in relation to any year means such period as may be specified in respect of that year in an order under this Act.

3. (1) In any year to which an order under this Act relates, the time for general purposes in Malta shall, during the period of summer time, be two hours in advance of Greenwich mean time. Advance of time during certain periods.

(2) Where any reference to a point of time occurs in any enactment, order, regulation, rule, bye-law, deed, notice or other document whatsoever, the time referred to shall, during the period of summer time, be deemed to be the time as fixed for general purposes by this Act.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall affect the use of a different time for purposes of astronomy, meteorology, navigation or other purposes for which a different time is adopted by international usage, or the construction of any document referring to a point of time in connection with any of those purposes.
