L.N. 217 of 1998

TELECOMMUNICATIONS (REGULATION) ACT, 1997 (ACT NO. XXXIII OF 1997)

Telecommunications Appeals Board (Jurisdiction) Regulations, 1998

IN exercise of the powers conferred by sections 30 and 33 of the Telecommunications (Regulation) Act, 1997, the Prime Minister, upon the recommendation of the Telecommunications Regulator, has made the following regulations:–

Citation.

1. These regulations may be cited as the Telecommunications Appeals Board (Jurisdiction) Regulations, 1998.

Decision upon disputes.

2. The Telecommunications Appeals Board shall, in addition to the cases listed in paragraphs (a) to (e) of subsection (1) of section 30 of the Telecommunications (Regulation) Act, 1997, have jurisdiction to decide:

(a) upon any dispute which according to the terms or conditions of any licence issued or deemed to be issued under the Telecommunications (Regulation) Act, 1997 may be referred to it, or

(b) upon any dispute which according to any regulations issued under the Telecommunications (Regulation) Act, 1997 may be referred to it, or

(c) upon any dispute which may be referred to it according to the terms of any contract or agreement entered into with the Telecommunications Regulator.